REPLY TO THE INFIDEL ATTACK OF THE INDEPENDENT ON CHRISTIANITY.

The second proof of a Supreme Being as the Bible teaches it we find in the general aspect of nature. The first proof by the existence of a higher moral law in the conscience of man implying unrefutably a moral governor would be alone sufficient, but we will also furnish unrefutable evidence from nature in general, that there must be a Supreme being above the world, a personal life and existence, who must be distinguished from the world itself as his work, as a conscience holy loving almighty, independent architect origin and governor of the universe. Of this argument Aristotle, the most renowned philosopher of ancient times says: "Only that man can lay claim to the name of a wise man who has investigated the first cause and basis of all things." Materialism has refused to do so. Instead of proofing it begins with the false hypothesis: 'Matter is eternal' and on this fallacious principle of unproved ignorance, it builds a system, which is proclaimed to be wisdom. A tree is matter, but how can they prove the eternity of the tree, when the contrary is proved by our senses and memories. Stone is matter how can they proof the eternity of stone, especially when Geologists speak of geological times, and of a succession of mineral formations or strata forming the earth's crust, corresponding each to said times in which they originate? When they speak of a developement, and at the same time of revolutions of the whole, pre existent to development? The human race is matter, so is all animal life, but Geology speaks of a time past in the history of the earth, when the degree of heat was so great, that no living thing could exist how could it be eternal? Not to speak now of said resolutions in Geology preceeding development, by which everything was in Chaos, which proves that all human wisdom, by its wanderings must finally come back to facts related long ago by the Bible. The question of a first cause, and a supreme power, which underlies all matter and laws cannot be evaded. All our thoughts of things in and around us, must turn to this important question if we want to shun credulity and fables, and build on real truth and facts. If we look at a watch and investigate and admire its machinery, the principal question will be, has the watch made itself and is it eternal in its materials and organism, or was there a watchmaker existing independently of the watch? And if the construction of the watch immanated from his brains and skill, and man be a producing agent or origin of work, and yet he is no more than a creature, should the world itself alone be without a cause, a pre existing power, an inventor? Is it reasonable to think that the ingeniously planned and arranged mechanism of the universe, which shows underlying principles, designs, purposes and wisdom in all its departments be without an architect, the laws which are so complicated and yet so harmonious be without a law giver, the wisdom and thoughtfulness portrayed in all features of the universe be without an absolute brain and independent intelligence, Reason compels us, to say there is and must be such an architect, lawgiver and absolute brain and independent intelligence and only ignorance and a shattered prevented mind can make the denial. If intelligence lays in matter, as materialism affirms, it must then lay in its particles for an intelligence above matter is not a materialistic but a Christian principle, but as matter is divided in many atoms, how can there exist a oneness or an intire whole, as intelligence is thereby also divided. Men and persons are matter and have intelligence separately each thinks and acts for himself must there not be superintending intelligence standing above our separate intelligences, that come and go, in order to control all as a whole. Everything we see in the universe proves, that in spite of all diversity, there is oneness, a harmony of laws and parts. In order to expose the loose lazy thinking of materialists in the system we ask them how can they explain this general unity and harmony of particles? There is only two ways: Either there must be a superintending spirit or intelligence above them all, which by foresight and prudence gives them into general marriage with each other so that they form a union but this is a Christian principle and against materialism which cannot without contradiction admit of an intelligence above matter and the different particles; or there is only one way of explanation left namely: That all the single parts, even the very smallest atoms, into which matter is divided, to come of ten together in general congresses to make their laws of union and harmony so that by general consent and advice they hold together. If there is no Supremity of one part over the other this mutual advice would be the only thing left, in order to form union and laws that concern them all. Is not by this investigation materialism caught in its own trap! Illustration will make it more plain. The ear of a man is said to contain over 40 different parts in its formation, but all these are so arranged by the Supreme Being that by their peculiar positions and natures hearing should be the result. Now if there is no divine absolute architect and independent cause to guide the thing, all these parts must first come together and advise about the construction. But when we consider that before the construction no parts existed and no conclave could be held, we must come back to our principle namely, a Supreme Being, an almighty Creator. The contemplation of matter and law becomes the means by which we ascend to a consciousness of him, that exists unseen. It is very unreasonable therefore, and showing loose, lazy thinking and a shattered mind, to deny this Supreme Being above the universe when we are led to it by everything in and around us. These materialists shame both their reason and their manhood for they are only rich in audacious presumptions, boastings and threatenings. They hold us responsible to explain everything, and yet they explain nothing, but trust in assertion without proof, and on the credulity of the people to follow them blindly. We speak this of the great Popes of materialism themselves, and not of the unknown writer or writers of the confused articles, who have only caught some glimpses of their Master's Books, and with these glimpses try to shine. To sum up the foregoing investigations in favor of and argument we must again refer to the division of matter into atoms into which it is analized by natural science itself. These atoms they say have no unconditional existence but are conditioned by each other. This conditioning of atoms proves an unseen secret band, by which they are tied to gether, that does not lay in the atoms respectively but above them to whose control they are willing to submit, in order to constitute an organism. But as one atom conditioned by other so is one organism conditioned by other organisms but this also is by a secret unseen band and power. As the atoms and their larger organisms are all conditioned, and bound together by secret power, the secret power itself must needs be unconditional, as it guides and commands and is obeyed by all bodies and this is our Supreme God, that stands above his work, and into whom everything concentrates as their common centre, origin and superintend. This tendency of concentration is obvious everywhere, for in all things we find progression from the lower to the higher, from the minute law to the general law, which must culminate in an unconditional independent Supreme Being. By weighing well this argument in all its bearings we must come to certain conclusion, if we are all capable of logical reasoning, that the existence of a Supreme Being is an established fact in nature. Materialism in its denial of this established fact, becomes atheism and has lost all claim of reason and respect. But as it claims matter to be part of God it is also superstitous and degrading, exchanging sublime manhood for beastly glory, and monkeyism But as they themselves, especially Vogt, claim the monkey as their forefather, we could not expect then more of such glorious children of such glorious ancestors. Even their standard of reasoning shows the low condition of their kind of philosophy. This standard they proclaim consists in this: "What we cannot comprehend with senses we will and cannot believe." Christianity and the Supreme Being is spiritual therefore they cannot believe them on that ground. But on this stand point they must also deny reason with the whole faculty of thinking in their own mind with which yet they boast so much, for they never can comprehend them with their senses. They cannot see, nor hear, nor feel, nor taste, nor smell their reasoning faculities or thoughts, so they would by their own standard have to deny the existence of them in their own minds because it is a mystery to their senses and their own reason and confess themselves without it, as perfect idiots or else they must give up their standard. We have referred to this standard for the purpose of showing them incapable of higher reasoning, and incapable of judging the Supreme Being and Christian to. All progression of logical thought must go further than the things comprehended by the senses, it must arrive at higher conclusions and admit even of existing mysteries beyond the bounds of human thought. If we stop at the limits of our senses we become idiots and ignorant beasts in human form. To take away logical reasoning beyond the bounds of sensuality and the real existence of conscience as a higher moral law in man is nothing less than to ship without a directing compass, where a man is at the power of wind and wave. By these considerations we will be better prepared to follow our argument also in some other respect to its final conclusion.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It is related that when Beecher was in the country last summer he lost his hat, and found it in about a week in a barn where he had left it, but with four eggs in it. This is as it should be. Beecher had just written a eulogy on the hen; and why shouldn't the hen re ward Beecher?

GOOD SHOWING.

The net earnings of the Union Pacific railroad from January 1st to July 31st, 1781, as reported by the financial agents were $2,078,788. Should the business for the remaining five months be proportionately large, the net earnings for the entire year would be $3,563,636.54.

The construction of the first 1000 miles of the Northern Pacific railroad, a liberal allowance being made for all contingencies, will not exceed $30,000,000—$30,000 per mile.

A volume of business over this 1000 miles equal to that which is reported for the 1000 miles of the Union Pacific would yield a net return of 12 per cent. on the investment—leaving a net profit of over 4½ per cent. after paying the interest on the company's bonds. In its first 1000 miles the road will pass through the best wheat growing region in the world—of vast extent and great fertility. It will run along the rich garden lands of the Red river of the north, the Missouri and the Yellowstone. The products of the wide and fertile regions of the Assiniboine and Saskatchawan will find their way to market over its rails, and rapidly increasing volume of mining business already existing in Montana will inevitably accept the facilities the road will bring. The excellence of the country and the rapidity with which it is filling with immigrants give promise of a local business whose figures alone will rival the showing made above. And when to this is added the great through traffic of the world, there is left no room to doubt that the Northern Pacific will from the start, perform in its field a grand a work as is now being done by its more southern neighbor.

Were there, then, nothing but the business of the road upon which to depend, its projectors might reasonably hope for a paying return; but behind and supporting all is the immense grant of 50,000,000 acres of land. These lands are not irreclaimable waste places, but are, mainly, fertile plains and rich valleys—well watered and lying in the midst of a temperate climate.

Under the provisions of the mortgage, the proceeds of sales of land must be applied to the repurchase and cancellation of the bonds. Thus, this superb estate will prove a source of constant revenue, which must be held sacred for the benefit of the bondholders.

These bonds are secured by first mortgage on the entire road and its equipments, and on more than 25,000 acres of land to every mile of track, or 500 acres of land to each $1,000. The highest current price will be paid for U. S. five twenties, and all other marketable securities received in exchange. Pamphlets, maps, and full information, as well as the bonds themselves, will be furnished on application, by Jay Cooke & Co., Philadelphia, New York, and Washington, and by most banks and bankers throughout the country.

FIFTY YEARS IN A DUNGEON.

I find in an old French volume, the Memoirs of Count Gontallence, the following account of how long the lamp of conversation will hold out to burn between two human beings only. He says: "I am an old man now, yet by fifteen years my soul is younger than my body. Fifteen years I existed, but I did not live—it was not life—in a dungeon fifteen feet square. During six years I had a companion; for nine years I was alone. I could never rightly distinguish the features of him who shared my captivity in the eternal twilight of my cell. The first year we talked incessantly together; we recounted our past lives, our joys forever gone, over and over again. The next, we communicated to each other our thoughts, our ideas on all subjects. The third, we had no ideas to impart; we begun to lose the power of reflection. The fourth, we opened our lips during the interval of a month or so, and asked ourselves if it were indeed possible that the world went on as gay and bus ling as it was wont to do when we formed an integral part of humanity. The fifth, we were silent. The sixth, he was taken away and I never knew, or even enquired, whether it was to execution, or to the holy air of freedom. But I was glad he was gone; even solitude was preferable to the dim vision of that pale, vacant face. After that I was alone, only one event breaking on my nine years vacancy. One day—it must have been a year or two after my companion left me—the dungeon door was opened, and a voice, whence it proceeded I know not, uttered these words: 'By order of his majesty, I intimate to you that your wife died a year ago.' The door was again shut, and I heard no more. They had thrust this great grief upon my heart, and left me alone to struggle in all its bitter agony."

TROLL CUSTOMS.

The lately revived custom of throwing shoes after a newly married couple for luck, is a very old one. In some parts of Kent, the shoe throwing does not take place until after they are gone; when the single ladies range themselves in one line, and the bachelors arrange themselves in another. An old shoe is then thrown as far as the thrower's strength permits, and the ladies rush after it, the winner being rewarded by the assurance that she will be married before any of her rivals. She then throws the shoe at gentlemen, the one she hits laying the same pleasing unction to his heart.

Something like this is practiced in Yorkshire and Scotland. In Germany it used to be the rule for the bride, as she was being conducted to her chamber to take off her shoe and throw it among the guests, who battled for its possession; the successful he or she being destined to be speedily married and settled.

In England, the bride, from between the sheets, threw her left stocking over the shoulder of one of the company, the person upon whom it fell being marked out as the next individual to be married. In some places the threshold is kept warm for another bride, by pouring water on the doorsteps as soon as the bride and groom have taken their departure; the fancy being that before the water dries up another match will be made, or flow on, and that it will not be long before another wedded couple passed over the same ground.

In Prussia, the method adopted of invoking blessings on a newly married pair used to be the more expensive one of smashing crockery up against the front door of the house in which they were domiciled.

GATHERING ELECTRICITY WITH A WALKING CANE.

S. H. Sackett, professor of Engineering in the Louisiana University writes as follows:

"While crossing the upper or new suspension bridge, I had occasion while conversing with a friend to point toward the falls with my walking cane. As soon as I did so I heard distinctly at the end of my cane a buzzing noise, like that made by electricity passing from a heavily charged battery to a sharp pointed rod. Repeating the experiment, the same noise was heard. I stopped several passers and tried their canes with the same result, except in one case, where there was no ferrule on the end of the cane. I immediately supposed this might be an electrical phenomenon, and set to work to test the correctness of my supposition. I took a key and held it at arms length toward the sound. Finaliy, at dark, I returned to the bridge and pointed my cane in the air, and had the satisfaction of seeing a clear, beautiful electric brush on its end.

The best point to observe this beautiful and interesting phenomenon is in the middle of the bridge, and the cane must be held at arms length, so that its end may be at some distance from any part of the bridge. The success of the experiment seems to depend a great deal on the direction of the wind and the amount of vapor blown over the bridge. To day the wind is strong and blows the mist directly from the Falls to the bridge, but an occasional shifting or lulling of the wind would cause a cessation of the electrical noise or light. My explanation of the phenomenon is this:—As Franklin with his kite and key caught the lightning from the clouds of heaven, so here from the suspension bridge, surrounded by the vapors from the mighty falls, we stand and gather on our walking canes the electricity generated by the falling waters and contained in the floating mists. I collect enormous quantities of electricity from these mists which might be used in producing grand and striking effects, thus adding another attractive feature to the sights at this wonderful place.

BRAIN LABOR.

It is quite a common idea that the labor of the brain, the tasking of the mind, the devotion to pursuits demanding mainly mental exercise, is exceedingly deleterious to both physical and mental health. The idea conveyed is that the brain (if that is the physical organ through which the mind acts), is a very tender and delicate portion of the human organism, needed to be perpetually dandled on the lap of carefulness and preserved from rude shocks and even from steady hard work.

The exhausting labor of the muscles, such work as handling heavy bodies while exposed to hot sun or chilling winds—that work done by teamsters, stone and brick masons, farmers, bod carriers, &c., seldom receives notice from writers who harp on the exhaustive nature of brain work. There are other employments, not requiring, perhaps so great an outlay of physical power, but which are dreadfully monotonous, merely mechanical, and without the stimulus of mental interest, which are never mentioned as peculiarly exhausting; yet probably few brain laborers would be willing to drive team, pave streets, build houses, or weed onion beds rather than think, and write, and talk. If it is said that excess rather than brain work, is what should be guarded against, it may be replied that what is excessive labor to one is mere play, or at least, no task to another; each man is the best judge of the limit of his mental as well as of his physical powers.

There are no more persistent brain laborers than our mechanical inventors and scientific discoverers, yet we do not remember any instance where either of these classes, because of their devotion to their specialties, have become insane or died from [illegible] evening of the brain. We believe the brain is as strong as the muscles, that it will as quickly give the alarm and demand rest as the legs or the arms. We think our inventors and mechanics need not coddle their brains any more than their biceps muscles. We are thinking animals, and thinking is healthier than mental stagnation.

THE HEALTHINESS OF FOOD.

One of the most unnecessary comments that we hear made upon this or that article of diet, especially of vegetables, is the remark that it is healthy. Now, all clean, well cooked food, or ripe edible fruit, is healthy. We may say that it is equally healthy for all persons who have not some peculiarity of constitution or stomach; some indiosyerasy, as the doctors say. All food is composed of a few classes of substances, fewer and more simple than most of us suppose. Though these substances are combined and varied by nature in an infinite number to wave, yet they have pretty nearly the same power in all their combinations, whether as flesh, fish, fowl, vegetable, or fruit, to nourish the body and to produce the condition we call health. Not that health could be maintained upon one article of diet alone, or even upon one class of articles of diet. Were any person who speaks in this unmeaning way of peaches, or tomatoes, or unbolted bread or beef steak, as healthy, to make the experiment of living upon either one alone of these substances, he would soon find it to be the most unhealthy diet that he ever tried. But either kind of food in combination with others is just as healthy, and no more healthy than the rest. It is foolish to call any particular article of diet, in general terms, healthy.

CANDY EATING.

Shall I let my children eat candy? is a question over which parents are still sometimes puzzled. This is not surprising, for doctors and doctors' books differ upon the question. Some teach that candy is an evil to be avoided; others, who like it themselves, say that white cadies at least are harmless, and may be eaten at discretion. Neither side is quite right. The chief injury that candies do is that of spoiling the appetite for other food. When honestly made, colored candy is quite harmless in itself. Thus the red candies are colored with beet juice. But it is safer on the whole to stick to the white candies, which are made of starch and sugar flavored. The love of sugar is a natural and healthy appetite, especially in children, who need more saccharine matter than grown persons. Yet they should not be allowed to eat sugar to the exclusion of heartier food. By devouring candy in large quantities between meals they spoil their appetite, and often injure their digestion. This is the only serious objection to candy eating. A good rule in the matter is to prevent the child from eating candy so near to meal times as to make him leave a full plate of breakfast or dinner. But after a meal he can eat as much as he chooses without preoccupying his appetite for the next Good candy eaten at the right time is an excellent food.—Hearth and Home.

The Philadelphia Day says that a gentleman of that city recently went to the pains of procuring samples of whisky from different saloons, and he found by a thorough and most exact analysis the brand which he obtained from one of the worst dens down town was just as good as that received from one of the best hotels, and that too at just one quarter the price. One of the explanations of this curious fact is that the whisky sold at the cheap shops down town is manufactured from molasses and the scraping of sugar house floors, and that it is well known that the distillation from such products contain no fusil oil—a substance which exists in all brands obtained from grain distillations. The cheapness of the down town liquor is explainable on the ground that much of it is manufactured illicity, and thus escape the government tax. Neither does it contain as much dirt as is commonly supposed. The materials from which it is extracted are dirt, to be sure, but when the alcohol comes out in the still, it is freed from all impurities. The same argument would exclude salad or any other vegetable from our tables be cause they are thick strewn with manure. The moral of all this is evident; that if you are afraid of whisky, dont touch it at all; for an increased price and marble counter with mirrors of cut glass, are no guarantee of greater purity than that got from more humble surroundings.

The head of the Bureau of Statistics estimates the annual product of the whisky still of the country at 62,500,000 gallons. Mr Young estimates that there are 150,000 licensed dealers who sell an average of $4,000 each, or $600,000,000 in all, which is fifteen dollars a head for the population. Calling the price of a drink ten cents, we have one hundred and fifty drinks a year for in drink in two days for our population. As a large portion of the people do not indulge in ardent spirits the average consumption is greater. Of the whisky made, one half is used in the arts. The figures, then do not appear so appalling. Suppose that one tenth of the people of the United States think with more or less regularity. Then we have four millions of drinkers, among whom half the gross amount given, or thirty one or thirty-four millions of sallons must be divided. In a gallons there are sixty four drinks. This will make five hundred and fourty four drinks per year for each person, or less than two drinks a day.

We are told that the evening wore on, but we are never informed what the evening wore on that occasion. Was it the close of a summer day?

REUNION OF THE 104TH.

Last Friday will be long remembered by our citizens generally, and our soldier boys particularly, as one of the grand gala days of their lives. The day was most propitious for the celebration—not excessively hot, nor parching dry, or even very dusty, and no rain to mar the entire programme of the day.

In looking along any of our streets every one was vividly reminded of other days during the last decade because of our national emblem, the flag of the free, being visible. Hundreds of them were to be seen from the windows of dwellings, stores, shops, offices, and all places of business. A very large flag was suspended from a rope extending from the American Hotel to Richheimer's building; also, one was similarly suspended on Erie street between the Opera House and a building opposite. This indicates that there is no falling off of the patriotic feeling among our citizens. The Salem boys were among the first to make their presence known, as they came on the early train. Columbiana county was liberally represented, and some of the active young men on that day were from that shire. But representatives from Portage, Carroll and perhaps others from the west, were also here. Summit, however, did finely, especially the Akron boys. Some seventy five of them chartered a car and had with them that well known company of fine musicians every where known as Marble's Band. The young gentlemen carrying and using the finest of instruments, well skilled in their parts, and accoutred in rich uniforms, were the objects of general attention during the day. It is a source of regret that this delegation was not more formally escorted to town. Our boys did go to the depot to do them this honor, but from some cause the train in which the Akron delegation came, stopped at the junction, and in consequence of this misunderstanding they escorted themselves to town in a walk of about a mile.

The Salem band also made a fine appearance, and together with Marble's and our own band enlivened the day with cheering patriotic music. Some three hundred of the regiment were in attendance, and many were the cordial and hearty handshakings among those who, nine years ago, marched from Camp Massilion to do their part in quelling the great rebellion. Their record is engraved on the pages of history, and there is nothing of which they need be ashamed to bring against them.

A procession was formed, and marched through several of the streets, then to the Opera House, the place designated for transacting the annual business of these veterans. The large hall was filled, as hundreds were anxious to witness the proceedings of the day. Sargent Jackson, of Ravenna, a gentleman well qualified for a presiding officer, took his place on the stage, with other officers, and gentlemen specially invited to that position. Proceedings were formally opened by prayer, by Lieut. Taggart. Hon. A. C. Wales in a brief address welcomed our visitors in that cordial, earnest and able manner so characteristic of his efforts in public. Major Riddle, of Wellsville, made a happy response, which elicted hearty applause.

The business of the meeting was then attended to, consisting, in part, of letters read from absent comrades. That of quartermaster Schaffer, known as Old Hard Tack, was especially relished by the boys.

The election of officers followed, resulting in the choice of Major Riddle, of Wellsville, for president; Mr. Dunning, vice president; G. P. Reed, Ravenna, secretary: Chas McLain, Massillon, treasurer; W. J. Jordan, orator. Place of next meeting is Wellsville, on the first Tuesday of October, 1872.

Much anxiety was manifested by the audience to hear the oratioe, which came after business. Lieut. S. S. Cope of Wellsville then proceeded to deliver the annual address, and in their selection of the gentleman for this duty the boys manifested excellent judgment. The address was not tedious in length, but compact, eloquent and well delivered. He alluded in graphic terms to the organization of the regiment in 1862—to their duties, as soldiers, which all performed with becoming spirit and energy—to the glorious result which they aided in achieving—to their absent brethren, who are in distant parts of the country—to their comrades who have been mustered out of life's service, and are now quietly sleeping in heroes' graves. Mr. Cope is a young man, and did himself great credit in producing so well prepared an address; and his historical allusions, patriotic sentiments, and happy allusions to the days of the march, were often answered by vigorous applause.

On behalf of our people Anson Pease, Esq., proposed three cheers for the boys of the 104th, which was answered in a spirited manner. To not be out done in these manifestations, the president of the day proposed three cheers by the boys for the citizens of Massillon, and they answered it with a cheer, such as heroes only are master of.

Next thing on the programme was the rations. The meeting adjourned, and the guests were marched to the American, where Col. Madison had provided one of those great big dinners, such as he knows how to engineer and make a success. But great as were his preparations he could not accommodate all so a large number found the latch string a long way out among our benevolent citizens, whose hospitality has long been so well known to all who may have had occasion to enjoy it. The boys found no hard tack and that other ingredient of a soldiers fare, so well known among them as to be unnecessary to name, but they fared sumptuously, and were reminded of the kindness of our people in those days when they were preparing for the sanguinary business of war. The meeting seemed to do all parties good, for our folks have a laudable pride in letting the world know that they can keep Quaker tavern, and do it well.

During the day, and especially at the meeting for business, a prominent object of interest was the relics of an old battle flag which the regiment carried and which was torn to shreds by the bullets of the enemy, very little of the original bunting remaining. This is a certificate that our boys saw danger in the bloody forms of battle, and that in the reading of this emblem of our country's power, some brave hearts ceased to beat, giving their lives as a sacrifice to perpetrate a republican government. Other well used flags were present, but none of them seemed to have suffered as did this one. Well may our boys be proud of it—it is a faithful witness of their patriotism in those gloomy days when many a heart beat with anxiety for the final result.

In the evening, after the day's services were ended, our G. A. R. friends kindly furnished a large number of their guests with complimentaries to see the Color Guard. They were highly pleased with this courtesy, and enjoyed the exhibition, regarding it as one of superior merit. Our Akron brethren speak right out their appreciation of some of the leading characters. They especially name Miss Ickes and E. A. Lee, and the two Browns, saying that their acting "would do credit to old professionals."

The Beacon says the "Massillon people quite outdid themselves in providing entertainment." A little mistake, brother—why it is the way they always do these things. But we know Akron is hard to beat in the same way.

Mr. Greeley—there is but one national Greeley, and his name begins with Horace—according to what the New York Sun says, is now traversing the great northwest, delivering agricultural speeches, and talking politics at frequent intervals. Agriculture and the tariff are the two biggest ponies he now seems to recognize, and the Sun implies that Mr. G. wants to see the inside of the White House. He may be regarded as eccentric, but Mr. Greeley is a very influential, able writer, and as editor wields more power than any other man living. Being president of the Tribune, we are satisfied, is a greater and more elevated position than he can attain, even by taking charge of the affairs of state. But he says he is in the hands of the people, and they may do what they like with him. He is to be at Warren, Trumbull county, on the 28th inst., when he will make a speech.

On Monday the 4th inst. California held the state election. For several years it has been democratic, but this time it has departed from that dynasty. In 1867 Haight (Dem.) was elected governor by some 5000 majority—this year Booth (rep.) succeeds by over 4000 majority. All the members of congress are republicans—a gain of two—the legislature is of the same politics, and that secures a republican U S senator.

On last Monday (11th) the Maine election came off. Reports received yesterday claim an increase of republican majority for governor over last year's vote. Of course the legislature is strongly republican. Thus the democracy is advancing backward.

Estep has excursion satchels, needle tablets, jute goods, and the fragrant Hedeyosmia.

The Niles Independent tells of two festive youths of that place who hired a horse and buggy to take a few miles ride. They went to Youngstown, where they imbibed freely in the drink—started for home, and drove their horse so hard that he laid down and died on the road. The livery man made the boys pay two hundred dollars for their fun, and they got off very cheap at that. It may be that a lesson of this sort will be needed to teach some of our fast youths that murdering horses by over driving is as unlawful as it is inhuman.

Estep has full lines extra length hose for misses and children.

EASTERN OHIO DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

An adjourned meeting of a preliminary organization for the purpose of forming a dental association was held in Canton on Tuesday, Aug 29, 1871, in J. H. Siddall's rooms.

Dr. Lyder, of Alliance, in the chair.

Dr. McLain, of New Lisbon, chairman of constitution and by-lawy, reported having procured a copy of the constitution of the Northern Ohio Dental Association, which was adopted with some alterations; the name chosen be ng the Eastern Ohio Dental Association.

The following officers were elected for one year: President, J C Whinery, of Salem; Vice President, J W Lyder, of Alliance; Secretary, D B McLain, of New Lisbon; Treasurer, A J Douds, of Canton; Examining Committee, J H Siddall, Canton; J M Porter, Massillon; and C M Richmond, of Garrettsville.

Convention adjourned for dinner, and were hospitably entertained by Dr. Siddall.

After dinner the following dentists were present: J H Siddall, T J Barclay, L A Hole, W A Porter, J M Porter, C M Richmond, J W Lyder, D B McLain, and — Craig.

There are no members belonging to the Association yet, as all must pass an examination and be recommended by the examining committee who report at next meeting the names only of those found worthy.

Dr. J. M. Porter read a very able paper on the pathology and treatment of alveolar abcess. The subject was then discussed by nearly all present.

The subject of filling with smooth pointed instruments was next discussed, Dr. J M Porter having performed a clinical operation of that nature in the forenoon.

The subject of specialties in dental practice was warmly discussed.

The following subjects were selected for discussion at the next meeting: Anæsthesia the Gums and their diseases, and When is Extraction Indicated.

After passing a vote of thanks to Dr. Siddall, for the use of his rooms and his turkey, the society adjourned to meet in Alliance on the last Tuesday in February.

I omitted to state that Alliance is the permanent place of meeting, and the meetings are to be semi-annual.

MASSILLON SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

Massillon, O, Sept. 5, 1871.

The first public meeting of the Institute was held this evening in the lecture room of the Methodist church, at half past seven o'clock.

Pres't Jos. K. Russell in the chair. Opened with devotional exercises conducted by the president. Music by Mrs. L. S. Hardy. Prayer by Dr. A. H. Johnson.

The president made a few introductory remarks, and presented as the first topic for discussion: "The object and design of the Institute." Replied to by Rev. E. Hingeley, in a neat and very appropriate speech, of some twenty minutes duration Dr. H. Gerould and Rev R. L. Williams followed in five minute speeches on the same subject.

The second question: "What books are essential for the teacher?" The Teachers Library. Replied to by Dr. Gerould, who in a fifteen minute speech, suggested quite a number of books which should be in the hands of every teacher, and several that no Sunday school teacher could get along without. He was followed by Jos. K. Merwin and others, who spoke with good effect on the same subject.

In the absence of the secretary, Joel Core, who was detained by sickness, on motion, Jas J. Hoover was elected secretary pro tem.

The question drawer was the next in order, and quite a number of questions were placed therein by the members and friends of the Sunday school cause. The questions were read by the president, and presented by him to the Institute. Answers to the questions propounded were given by those present, and much information and encouragement was obtained from the replies which the questions elicites.

The president suggested that an opportunity be given for persons to unite With the Institute. A goodly number of persons gave their names and influence in behalf of the Institute.

On motion of Jos K Merwin, the secretary was instructed to furnish the papers of the city with a copy of the proceedings, with request that they be published.

On motion, the Institute adjourned, subject to call of the board of managers.

JAS. J HOOVER,
Secretary pro tem.

ONE MILLION OF LIVES SAVED!

It is one of the remarkable facts of this remarkable age, not merely that so many persons are victims of dyspepsia or indigestion, but its willing victims. Now we would not be understood to say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels disposed to rank it among the luxuries of life. Far from it. Those who have experienced its torments would scout such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities. There are diseases more acute and painful, and which more frequently prove fatal; but none, the effects of which are more distressing to the body. If there is a wretched being in the world it is

A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC.

But it not our intention to discant on the horrors of dyspepsia. To describe them truthfully is simply an impossibility. We have said that dyspepsia is perhaps the most universal of human diseases. This is emphatically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character of the food, the method of its preparation, or the hasty manner in which it is usually swallowed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this:

DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

almost universally.

Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one, for were this not the case, why so many sufferers, when a certain, speedy and safe remedy is within the reach of all who desire to avail themselves of it? But says a dyspeptic, What is this remedy? to which we reply. This great alleviator of human suffering is almost as widely known as the English language. This acknowledged panacea is none other than

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Would you know more of the merits of this wonderful medicine than can be learned from the experience of others? Try it yourself, and when it has failed to fulfill the assurance of its efficacy given by the proprietor, then abandon faith in it.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED

first of all, that Hoofland's German Bitters is not a rum beverage.

They are not alcoholic in any sense of the term. They are composed entirely of the pure juice or vital principle of roots. The extracts from which they are compounded are prepared by one of the ablest German chemists. The objections which hold with so much force against preparations of this class, namely—that a desire for intoxicating drinks is stimulated by their use, are not valid in case of the German Bitters. Their effects can be in all cases of the biliary system. Hoofland's German Bitters stand without an equal, acting promptly and vigorously on the liver; they remove its torpidity and cause healthful secretion of the bile. They impart vigor and strength to the entire system, causing the patient to feel like another being—in fact, giving him a new lease of life.

THEY PURIFY THE BLOOD,

cleansing the vital fluid of all hurtful impurities and supplanting them with the elements of genuine healthfulness. In a word, there is scarcely a disease in which they cannot be safely and beneficially employed; but in the generally prevalent distressing and dreaded disease, dyspepsia,

THEY STAND UNRIVALED.

Now, there are certain classes of persons to whom extreme bitters are not only unpalatable, but who find it impossible to take them without positive discomfort. For such has been prepared. It is intended for use where a slight alcoholic stimulant is required. This tonic contains all the ingredients of the bitters, but so flavored as to remove the extreme bitterness.

HOOFLAND'S TONIC

acts with almost marvelous effect. It not only stimulates the flagging and wasting energies, but invigorates and permanently strengthens its action upon the liver and stomach thoroughly, perhaps less prompt than the Bitters, when the acute quality is taken, is none the less certain. Indigestion, biliousness, physical or nervous prostration, yield readily to its potent influence. It gives strength to weakness, throws dependency to the winds, and starts the restored invalid upon a new and gladsome career. But Dr. Hoofland's benefactions to the human race are not confined to his celebrated or his invaluable Tonic. He has prepared another medicine, which is rapidly winning its way to popular favor because of its intrinsic merits. This is a perfect substitute for mercury, without any of mercury's evil qualities.

These wonderful pills which are intended to act upon the liver, are mainly composed of Podophyllin, or the

VITAL PRINCIPLE OF MANDRAKE ROOT.

Now we desire the reader to distinctly understand that this extract of the Mandrake is many times more powerful than the Mandrake itself. It is the medical virtues of this health giving plant in a perfectly pure and highly concentrated form. Hence it is that two of the Podophyllin pills constitute a full dose, while anywhere six to eight or a handful of other preparations of the Mandrake are required. The Podophyllin stimulating its functions and causing it to make its biliary secretions in regular and proper quantities. The injurious results which invariably follow the use of mercury is entirely avoided by their use.

Possessing desirable qualities, the Podophyllin becomes invaluable as a

FAMILY MEDICINE

No household should be without them. They are perfectly safe, require but two for an ordinary dose are prompt and efficient in action, and when used in connection with Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, or Tonic, may be regarded as certain specifics in all cases of liver complaint dyspepsia, or any of the disorders to which the system is ordinarily subject. The act upon the stomach and bowels, carrying off improper obstructions, while the Bitters or Tonic purify the blood.

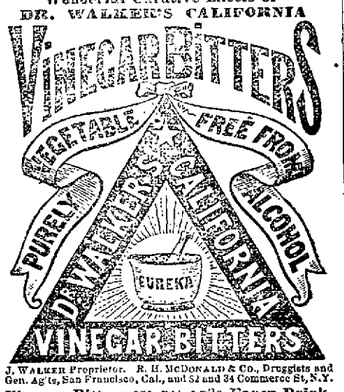
VINEGAR BITTERS.



J. WALKER Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen. Ag'ts, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 and 34 Commerce St, N.Y.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink. Made of Poor Rum Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful.

Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erisipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores, cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

THE STARK CO. FAIR

Will pay from $10 to $20 for the best acres of wheat—not less than 25 bushels to the acre.

The Ohio State Fair commences on Monday the 25th inst., at the flourishing city of Springfield, Clark county, and will continue till Friday following—in all five days. The managers have been making all needed preliminaries for a successful fair—the 19th—and it will not be their fault if it is not a credit to the state of Ohio. The location is nearly central, and the railroad facilities for access are abundant in all directions. We cannot say how it may turn out, but think the rich agricultural county of Stark will be represented there, as our farmers and mechanics have too much interest in such gatherings to be indifferent. Vast crowds visited the fair at the same place in 1870, and there need be no falling off in numbers in 1871.

The large number of people interested in our annual fairs will not forget that the 22d annual exhibition of the Stark county Agricultural society opens at Canton on Tuesday the 26th inst., and will continue four days. The hundreds of farmers, manufacturers and others directly interested in these fairs will certainly be present, and contribute of their wealth of productions from the earth, of mechanics' skill in the arts, and of the varied industries, all of which aid to enhance the welfare and prosperity of the state. Stark county is rich enough to have one of the best fairs in Ohio; and then this bounteous season furnishes an unlimited supply of earth's productions, so there is no reason why this fair will not be the best yet seen here.

The managers of the Massillon Driving Park Association are continuously at work, maturing all the necessary preliminaries to open out their grounds in a few weeks Gentlemen competent to the task have charge of the enterprise, and their well known energy and goodhead spirit will make the location both desirable and beautiful. We may, therefore, expect that in a few weeks at most the premises will be prepared for the object to which it is to be appropriated, so that Massillon will not be behind the neighbors in manifesting this spirit of public enterprise.

THE STARK CO. FAIR

Which begins at Canton on the 26th inst., will pay from $5 to $20 for best crops of barley, rye, oats, buckwheat, flaxseed, clover and timothy hay.

Among the objects of universal admiration, which were nightly presented to our people who gathered at the opera house last week, to witness the presentation of the Color Guard, were those beautiful tableaux. Although their existence is necessarily transient in duration, yet they make a vivid and lasting impression on every beholder who admires the rich and gorgeous figures so plainly presented to view. No one blessed with sight can erase from the memory their richness, and the objects of which they are the evanescent emblems are indelibly engraven on the mind of every visitor. These scenes alone are worth the price of admission.

STARK CO. FAIR

Will pay liberal premiums for the best agricultural implements in great variety.

On Friday evening a man from the country while in his saddle near the American House, his horse became frightened, threw the rider off, one of whose feet adhered to the stirrup. The horse dragged the man about for a short time quite roughly, when he was released in some way, and from what we hear he was not very severely injured. He was fortunate in getting off with his life. The writer of this in 1836 traveled a short distance in that dangerous style, and can certify from experience that it is as rough a manner of locomotion as can well be conceived, and very undesirable, unsafe and uncivilized.

Saturday must have been a rather good time for business, as it was pay day at the coal mines and at Russell & Co's. When these pay days come, which is pretty often, it starts a good deal of money into circulation, and working men keep it moving.

The colored band have received their instruments—some twelve pieces, which cost about $800—through the agency of Mr. J. L. Durgin, of this place, from John F. Stratton & Co. New York. We understand this newly organized band has taken a room for practicing in the stone block, on Erie street, and have begun to take lessons.

We stated the fact briefly last week that a number of the members of the G. A. R. post of this place, aided by others well qualified to fill some of the parts, auspiciously commenced presenting the Color Guard, a military drama, before our citizens in the Opera House. On Tuesday evening was the first exhibition, and every following night during the week the same programme was presented. Naturally we would suppose that the interest would slacken toward the last, but on the contrary in this case, it increased to the last. The large number of strangers here on Friday night helped to fill the capacious hall to its utmost capacity. And the actors gave such satisfaction as to elicit frequent and loud applause. They all did well—and so it was every night. Many attend such exhibitions to enjoy the mirth caused by the comic fellows; and they were highly gratified by the gentlemen personating the Dutchman, the Irishman and the African. There are many others, while they keenly enjoy the broad fun, are attracted more by the sentimental, patriotic and other phases of the drama. In this case they, too, were much pleased with the rendering of the more affecting and deeper traits of character, so well personated by several of the young ladies and gentlemen on the stage. Appropriateness of action, clearness of pronunciation, modulation of the voice to give expression to the varied passions, emotions, and the numerous shades of feeling which are necessary to the rendering of the spirit of the piece, were so marked on the part of some of the actors as to be highly creditable to their genius, and their perception of the object of the theme they aided so handsomely to elucidate. None of these,—that is, our home folks—are professionals in the dramatic art See them on the stage at night personating heroes, heroines, patriots, philanthropists and other characters, then follow them the next day, and you will find them mechanics, merchants, clerks, business men, and among the ladies those who are appropriately engaged in household affairs—in short, a vast variety of the occupations of active life, even including printers, were there to be seen, at least as successful amateurs in a profession the most difficult to attain. At this writing we do not know the financial success of the weeks' work, but it must aggregate something handsome, and will aid amazingly to bring in sight the much desired monument for which all this labor and effort is expended. In the coming months, and the increasing length of the nights it is highly probable that the association will again present the same play upon the stage; for it will be to our citizens something like the Union Spy—bear repetition many times to the same audiences without seeming to tire the spectators, or diminish their interest. Its repetition will aid materially to erect a ten or twelve hundred dollar monument, and perhaps consummate this much wished for object, for which our patriotic boys have so long labored.

STARK CO. FAIR

Will pay encouraging premiums for manufactured articles of a great variety of classes.

A rather tragic runaway took place yesterday by a team belonging to Peter Musser who lives in the country. The horses became frightened at Sippo mill in consequence of falling shingles, and started off rapidly, knocking Mr. Musser down whereby he had several bones broken—but how severe the injuries we are not informed. The team ran down past the Zielley House where they smapped off a lamp post, and were soon afterward stopped.

About these days our farmers are beginning to put in their seed wheat, and it may be two or three weeks, before they are all through. Many years ago to keep on sowing till Christmas was nothing strange—crops would come anyhow.

All who see that beautifully devised panel of fence, now in the park—which is a specimen of the fence to surround the lot in cemetery recently purchased by the G. A. R. post of this place for their dead—cannot but admire its ingeneous combination of military emblems, while it is strong, neat and cannot be expensive. It is said to have been devised by a member of the order of this place, and is certainly a certificate of his ability and taste in contriving so appropriate a surrounding to the enclosure. It is manufactured by Killinger & Co.

Among the large number of people in town on Friday, during the day we saw very few specimens of drunkenness. The boys as a rule, were generally right—there may have been exceptions. In the evening, and at night, strong drink was freely indulged in by many, and not a few degraded themselves by becoming disgracefully drunk—if reports are true. There may be pleasure in such animal indulgence, but it is of a very low order, such as we might expect from the quadrupeds.

It is currently said that toward evening, last Friday, there was a bear dance somewhere in town. The animal is reported as being one of good size, but whence he came or whither he has gone we have not been advised.

Saturday night, perhaps between 9 and 10 o'clock a young man who was drunk, became very abusive and unruly in Mr. L. Schaufele's jewelry establishment—so much so that Mr. S. had to put him out. He then commenced fighting Mr. S. who used him pretty roughly, and flogged him, as he should have done. After that the rioter went to work smashing in the large panes of glass in the front door of the store, which cut his hands severely, causing blood to flow freely. The marshal then took charge of the youngster and put him in the calaboose. That is another legitimate whisky performance.

The post office part of our government has designated a large number of places over the country at which portal money orders can be sold payable in the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Massillon is one of the places named. Fees are as follows—on $10, 25 cents; not over $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not over $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, 100 cents; over $40 and not above $50, $1.25. DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION

The subject of indigestion has attracted much attention, because it has ever been a difficult and troublesome disease to treat.

It is characterized by a great variety of symptoms, the most prominent of which, are pain of eating, belching, heartburn, waterbrash, fullness of stomach, loss of flesh, headache, bad or capricious appetite, nervousness, &c.

When the disorder is of long continuance other organs of the body soon become affected, and the lungs, liver, brain or kidneys, frequently suffer.

In fact, dyspepsia in the forerunner of a great number of chronic diseases. such as consumption, scrofula, colic pains paralysis, female derangements, nervous spells, weaknesses, &c., and is in its turn the consequence of many of them, and may complicated with almost every and any disease.

From this it is plain that the treatment of dyspepsia should be varied according to the extent of the disease and the nature of the complications.

One system is more prominent and urgent in one case than another, according to the disease with which it is complicated. And hence remedies seldom have the same effect in any two cases. And all plans of treatment will most generally fail, unless the precise nature and cure of the disease is well known.

Indeed, we are surprised that so little attention has been paid the that secretion in dyspepsia, when we know that there is no more certain sign offered.

By this we are enabled to determine whether it be dyspepsia from liver complaint, kidney affections, nervous disorders, or, in case of females, from uterine affections, derangements or irregularities, or whose affections proceed from the dyspepsia:—And to treat the case in accordance with the true conditions, the fixed principles of a fixed science.

There is no guess work about it. We have cured hundreds and thousands of cases of dyspepsia by a single course of medicine; others require more, however, according to the disease with which it is complicated.

Exuberant Health

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life, and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not much to say more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions; and they have the article in Hostetter's stomach bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e. it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseum, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the past century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses running incessantly (Sundays excepted,) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over eight millions a year.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgements we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

WHAT PSYCHOMANCY.

This word is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a book of 400 pages, by Herbert Hamilton, B. A., giving full instructions in the science of soul charming and physcologic fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals instantaneously, at will. It teaches mesmerism, how to become trance or writing mediums, divination, spiritualism, alchemy, philosophy of omens and dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the merchant in selling goods, the lawyer in gaining the confidence of jurors, and the physician in healing the sick, to lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. Price by mail, in cloth, $1.25; paper covers, $1. For sale by J B Lippincott & Co., and Claxson, Remson & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Agents wanted for this book, private medical works, perfumery, jewelry &c., who will receive samples free. Address T. W. Evans, Publisher and Perfumer, 41 South st. Philadelphia, Pa.

JURUBEBA

WHAT IS IT?

It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the liver and spleen, enlargement or obstruction of intestines, urinary, uterine or abdominal organs, poverty or a want of blood, intermittent or remittent fevers, inflamation of the liver, dropsy, sluggish circulation of the blood, abscesses, tumors, jaundice, scrofula, dyspepsia, ague and fevers or their concomitants.

Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the south American plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even excell the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful plant. He has spent much time in experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

Dr Wells' Extract of Jurubeba.

And he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a blood purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and lymphatic temperaments. THE NOVELTY CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the sewing machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the wringer. But its usefulness does not stop here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture last twice as long when wrung in a wringer as when rung by hand. The Novelty has cog wheels on both ends. The rollers are allowed to separate freely at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—N Y Independent.

The Novelty wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first class practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family we are prepared to endorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled), by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

BUILD HIM A FIRE.

Ferrin, the landlord of the Westminster Hotel, in New York, is not often nonplussed, but last August a dapper little Frenchman staggered him a moment. Walking up to the office he accosted Ferrin with:

"If you please, Monsieur, you shall send bill de fire in my room."

'A What!' said Ferrin, looking at the thermometer, which indicated ninety two degrees.

'I wish ze bill de fire in my apartment,' repeated the French man.

'All right, sir,' said Ferrin, with that outward imperturbability with which the true hotel keeper receives an order for anything, if it be for gold dust pudding with diamond plums.

'John! fire in 10,001.'

'Yes sur-r-r!' said John; and by the time the Frenchman had arrived at his room, John, with perspiration pouring off of him, had the grate filled and a blaze roaring up the chimney like mad.

'Vat ze diable you do,' exclaimed the astonished foreigner.

'Build a fire as you ordered,' replied the other exile.

'Fire be tam!' screamed the Frenchman. 'I shall roast myself with ze heat!' and, rushing down stairs he appeared at the office, with inflamed face and moistened shirt collar, exclaiming 'I ask you not for ze fire. Vat! think I wish to make myself more hot, eh? I call for bill de fire—ze bill, ze carte so I can eat myself wis my dinnaire.'

'Bill of fare? Oh! yes, sir," said Ferrin. 'I beg your pardon.' And he politely passed out the programme for the day, but deputed one of the garcons of the restaurant to answer any further orders from the subject of Napoleon.

Mr. G. was a most inveterate punster. Lying very ill of cholera, his nurse proposed to prepare a young rooster chicken. 'Hadn't you better take an old hen?' said G., in a low whisper—he was too ill to speak louder—'for she would be more apt to lay on my stomach.' G. fell back exhausted, and the nurse fainted.

In a recent report of a Philadelphia Grand Jury, they express the opinion that "ninety per cent of the offenses charged arise directly or indirectly from the immoderate use of intoxicating liquor, and in this connection would recommend a more stringent enforcement of the law both against selling liquors on Sunday and without license, and also new legislation to further restrict the sale."

A truck driver in Chicago, who was arrested for cruelty to a miserable looking horse, was asked if he ever fed him? 'that's a good 'un,' was the reply. 'He's got a bushel and a half of oats at home now, only he ain't got no time to eat 'em!'

PEACHES WITHOUT STONES.—An agriculturist has, it is said tried with success the following method of making peaches grow without stones: 'Turn the tops of the trees down, cut off the ends, stick them into the ground and fasten them so with stakes; in a year or two these tops will take root and well rooted cut off the branches connecting these re-versed and rooted branches with the proper, and this reversed peach tree will produce fine peaches without stones.' The same experiment may be tried with plums, cherries and currants.

Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office east of the Park, second door of Mr. Falke's new building.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgment of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,

The Diamond Glasses,

Manufactured by

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the Most Perfect, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, 'Diamond,' on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or center of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are Mounted in the Finest Manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

Manhood; how Lost, how Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S Celebrated Essay on the radical cure, without medicine, of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness, involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

DR. AUGUSTUS SLEE

Treats all private diseases with great success. Spermatorrhœa, or seminal weakness and impotency, caused by selfabuse, etc—producing General Debility of the body, Indigestion, want of proper Manliness, Loss of Memory, Indolence; reducing the System so as to render Marriage unadvisable—Permanently Cured.

Long standing constitutional disease skillfully treated and cured.

Effects of Mercury Eradiated.

The doctor gives particular attention to Female complaints. Sterility, Ammenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, and all such diseases, causing annoyance and interfering with the general health and enjoyment of life, invariably removed.

Send for the doctor's medical pamphlet, treatise, in plain language, on veneral diseases, enabling the afflicted to understand their own complaints. Free at office or sent securely sealed, for six cents.

Ample accomodations for patients from a distance at the house.

Office hours from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. All communications to be addressed DR. AUGUSTUS SLEE, 264 Penn street, Pittsburg, Pa.

DR. WHITTIER

Continues to treat all private diseases, syphillis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhœa or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are a speedily cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

Hours 8 a. m to 8 p. m. Sundays 12 m. to 2 p. m. Office, No. 296 Penn street, Pittsburg, Pa. 355-1y

Henry T. Helmbold's

COMPOUND FLUID

Extract Catawba

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Bilious Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely vegetable containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious drugs.

H

These pills are the most elightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnetia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few day's use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawaba Grape Pills are not sugar coated, from the fact that sugar coated pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. The Catawaba Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar coated, Price 50 cents per box.

E

Henry T. Helmbold's

Highly Concentrated Compound

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Will radically exterminate from the system scrofula, syphilis, fever sores, ulcers, sore eyes, sore legs, sore mouth, sore head, bronchitis, skin diseases, salt rheum, cankers, runnings from the ear, white swellings, tumors, cancerous affections, nodes, rickets, glandular swellings, night sweats, rash, dyspepsia, and all diseases that have been established in the system for years.

L

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complection a clear and healthy color, and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. And is the only reliable remedy for the cure of pains and swellings of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimbles, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions on the skin, and beautifying the complexion. Price $1,50 per bottle.

M

Henry T. Helmbold's

CONCENTRATED

Fluid Extract Buchu,

The Great Diuretic. Has cured every case of diabetes in which it has been given. irritation of the neck of the bladder and inflamation of the kidneys, ulceration of the kidneys and bladder, retention of the urine, gravel, milky discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with loss of memory, indisposition, weak nerves, trembling, pain in the back, hot hands, dryness of the skin, and a host of other symptoms. Used by persons from the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, and from thirty-five to fifty-five, or in the decline or change of life; after confinement or labor pains; bed wetting in children.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and blood purifying, and cures diseases arising from dissipation, excess and imprudences in life, impurities of the blood, etc., supersedes copaiby in affections in which it is used, and syphilic affections—in these affections used in connection with Helmbold's rose wash.

Ladies, In many affections peculiar to ladies, the buchu is unequaled by any other remedy—as in chlorosis, irregularity, ulcerated state of the uterus, leucorrhœa or whites sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or dissipation. It is prescribed by physicians and midwives for the enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, and all ages.

O

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU cures diseases arising from imprudences habits of dissipation, etc., in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, so frequent in this class of diseases.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing. Price $1,50 cents per bottle.

L

HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH cannot be surpassed as a face wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It speedily eradicates pimples, spots, indurations of the cutaneous membrane, etc., dispels redness and incipient inflamation, hives, rash, moth patches, dryness of the scalp or skin, frost bites, and all purposes for which salves and ointments are used. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a syphilitic nature, and as an injection for diseases of the urinary organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the extracts Buchu, Sarsaparilla, and Catawaba Grape Pills, in such diseases as recommended cannot be surpassed. Price $1 per bottle.

D

Full and explicit directions accompanying the medicines. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character furnished on application, with hundreds of thousands of living witnesses, and upward of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent physicians, clergymen, statesmen, etc. The proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as standard preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

H. T. Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.

Delivered to any address. Secure from observation. Established upward of twenty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Address letters for information in confidence to Henry T. Helmbold, Druggist and Chemist.
